10	anonymous	Keep the cost to public at all events at an affordable cost. Thank you.
11	anonymous	I like the idea of food trucks with mariachi and dancing.

28	anonymous	Booth that sells beer would be dope
29	anonymous	the nature coast line access to seniors
30	anonymous	Not at this time.
31	anonymous	We need lots of shade and free water.
32	anonymous	While I wouldn't need transportation to get there, living at the marina next door, it would be imperative to have transit for folks, as that little corner/area can't handle the car traffic for several hundred people descending on an event. Security for the area nearby would also be appreciated.
33	anonymous	On water experiences that people can try for free.
34	anonymous	Lots of shade and free water (not bottles)
35	anonymous	Community Rowing of San Diego based at the Aquatic Center can provide extra programming.
36	anonymous	We need more creative choices.
37	anonymous	Native plants!
38	anonymous	Intro to water sports for all ages...can't beat water for mental health and physical exercise
39	anonymous	water excursions water education more activities for youth and children
40	anonymous	You didn't provide any options related to the fact that the park is located right on the water! Seriously? There's an aquatic center right there and people are constantly boating right there. Why not have something related to how to use the water resources that are right there? Also, a "Taste of South Bay" event would also be a good idea. People love that and it would feature local businesses. And can the social justice crap. That is not bringing the community together—that is tearing it apart.

41	anonymous	This survey is strange. Looks like it's supposed to be an event for "Tidelands Activation" to get more people to use a park whose key feature is being on the tidelands. But there are almost no water or eco activities mentioned. Is this just a party or a way to get people to come back to the park after the party? A car show for Tidelands Activation? Am I the only one seeing the irony here?
42	anonymous	Free activities people can learn and do on the water.
43	anonymous	I would like to see an event where child activities, like a jumper or multiple jumpers, make a craft, or kid rides, and young performers can exist with live adult music. A family event for all ages not just adults. As well as stands for local businesses, community resources, and social justice can co-exist. If you want older people to come they need easy access. Older people can not walk long distances. If there is going to be free transportation to area please let it be publicized well so people know. I am also thinking about maybe two stages depending on the space and performance line up. San Diego has lots of great local musicians and artist.
44	anonymous	Please advertise widely
45	anonymous	Maybe spring festival to promote health and well-being while also inviting competitions to be held in any national city park
